

Occupational Therapy

Contributed by Administrator
Last Updated Wednesday, 06 April 2016

If a child has difficulty sitting still, needs to lean on things for support, has trouble with crossing the midline, trouble with writing or has processing difficulties this will all have an effect on their learning.

We are able to refer the child to the Physical Disability Service who assess the child in school. If needed an Occupational Therapy and/or Physiotherapy programme is put together for the school and home to implement.